Baylor University---Waco and Dallas

S. P. BROOKS A. M. LL.D., President

Baylor University stands, as she has always stood, for a thorough scholarship. She believes that the business man, as well as the professional man, should be a scholar. It takes an intelligent, well educated man to compete, with any degree of success, in the business world today.

Baylor University stands for a practical scholarship. She believes in specialized training; to this end the Board of Trustees have authorized the inauguration of several new departments, including Law, Agriculture, and Journalism. It is the purpose of Baylor to open these departments next fall.

Baylor University stands for progressive student activities. She believes that the student organizations should train for progressive citizenship, and she takes just pride in the Baylor University Chamber of Commerce, an organization of about a hundred of her most aggressive, wide-awake young men. She is getting splendid results from their endeavors in her behalf.

Baylor has many Jews in her student body and they are received on the same footing as all her students. The student body is thoroughly democratic.
